

Principles Regarding That Which is “Accursed”

1. God is the only one who fully knows everything. Therefore, He is the only One who is qualified to determine what is good and what is evil, what is useful and what is not useful, what is acceptable and what is not acceptable, and what is desirable and what is not desirable.
2. It is our primary business to be in absolute agreement and concord with God in every evaluation and pronouncement He makes.
3. God has enemies!
  - ◆ We are to relate to God’s enemies in a totally different way than we do to our own personal enemies. The Scriptures give completely different instructions for each.
  - ◆ It is wicked for us to embrace God’s enemies, or for us to relate to them in a way differently than God does. It is wicked and wrong to bless someone whom God has pronounced accursed.
4. It is a crime against heaven and earth to reject God’s declaration about and disposition toward His enemies. The issue is not whether something seems to be negative or positive, but what God wants done!
5. God has sovereign rights over all men to dispose of them as He pleases.
6. God’s authority over our ministries and Christ’s lordship over the church are absolute.
7. When we consent to the sin that brings others under the judgment of God, we ourselves will become unusable to God and as a result will find ourselves ultimately rejected by God (not necessarily by men) as to our own personal ministries.
8. Complicity with evil in the present destroys the prospect of victory in the future.
9. Partial obedience is disobedience.
10. Selective obedience is not an option for us.
11. We are responsible to enter into God’s battles as a part of God’s work.
12. There is never a good reason for doing a bad thing.
13. God’s commands are firm and final.
14. Disobedience, for whatever reason given, amounts to complicity — making common cause with Satan and demonic powers; and is an act of direct rebellion against God.
15. Disobedience is an outright rejection of God’s wisdom, God’s purpose, God’s authority and God’s Word.
